Anticipated Costs

In addition to course registration and the International fee, students are responsible for their meals and air travel to and from Los Angeles. Airfare is typically around $500. The Santa Monica hostel has a commercial kitchen and lots of refrigerator space if you care to cook your own meals.

The International Fee covers the cost of accommodation [additional nights can be arranged on your behalf and your fee will be adjusted accordingly], bus transportation, and all entrance fees. This fee is determined by the number of students attending, in past years this fee has been approximately $505 a person.
