Introduction

This course is an introduction to walkability and the urban design of Vienna Austria.
This course may not be repeated for credit.

Objectives

- - To participate in the International Walk21 Conference and gain an awareness of the benefits and challenges facing the implementation of walkable environments in an urban context.
- - To gain an understanding and appreciation of the urban design of Vienna.

Teaching Approach

This field study course will be centered on the International WALK 21 Conference. Students are expected to participate in all relevant sessions of the conference and participate in relevant walk-shops

Content: Topic Areas

See the conference package for the schedule of events.

Means of Evaluation

Students will be evaluated on the following:

Part One 50%

Select a paper presentation from the Walk21 Conference and write a 2 page critical reflection that summarizes the key arguments made by the author, compares them to other papers in the session, and describes their potential relevance/impact on this term's studio work. If available, supplement the reflection with a copy of or link to the presentation, a short bio of the author, and a list of references for future research.

Part Two 50%

Prepare a 3-5 page illustrated report on one of the Walk21 Walk-shops. This should include a summary of projects visited on the tour and a critical reflection on the work. Supplement the document with images, maps, and floor plans as appropriate.

Due Date: Dec 4, 2015 (pdf emailed to the manager – 2MB file maximum)

Grading Scale

Faculty shall use the following methods for reporting grades and for determining final grades. Final grades shall be reported as letter grades, with the grade point value as per column 2. Final grades shall be calculated according to the 4-point range in column 3. Should faculty members evaluate any individual exams or assignments by percentage grades, the equivalents shown in column 4 shall be used.

Students must be informed of the method of calculation, and should be able to, from the grades provided by the instructor, determine their standing.

Final grades will be reported as letter grades, with the final grade calculated according to the 4-point range. Assignment(s) evaluated by percentage grades will be converted into letter grade equivalents as shown.

Readings

The reading list for this course will be provided at the beginning of the course.

Grade	Grade Point Value	4-Point Range	Percent	Description
A+	4.00	4.00	92.5-100	Outstanding - evaluated by instructor
A	4.00	3.85-4.00	85-92.49	Excellent - superior performance showing comprehensive understanding of the subject matter
A-	3.70	3.50-3.84	80-84.99	Very good performance
B+	3.30	3.15-3.49	76-79.99	Good performance
B	3.00	2.85-3.14	73-75.99	Satisfactory performance

D	1.00	0.50-1.14	50-55.99
F	0.00	0-0.49	0-49.99

Notes:

- A student who receives a "C+" or lower in any one course will be required to withdraw regardless of their grade point average (GPA) unless the program recommends otherwise. If the program permits the student to retake a failed course, the second grade will replace the initial grade in the calculation of the GPA, and both grades will appear on the transcript.
1. Written work, term assignments and other course related work may only be submitted by e-mail if prior permission to do so has been obtained from the course instructor. Submissions must come from an official University of Calgary (ucalgary) email account.
 2. It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodations. If you are a student with a documented disability who may require academic accommodation and have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre, please contact their office at 220-8237. (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/drc/node/46>) Students who have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre are not eligible for formal academic accommodation. You are also required to discuss your needs with your instructor no later than fourteen (14) days after the start of this course.

3. Plagiarism - Plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when: (a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test), (b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author, (c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or, (d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved. While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted. Plagiarism is an extremely serious academic offence. It is recognized that clause (d) does not prevent a graduate student incorporating work previously done by him or her in a thesis. Any suspicion of plagiarism will be reported to the Dean, and dealt with as per the regulations in the University of Calgary Graduate Calendar.
