david vs goliath: photograph 2022

taken on roadtrip to Drumheller, the photo encapsulates how oppositional our existence is to nature

I like patterns: acrylic 2019 painstakingly painted over the summer of 2019, this series reflects my Albertan cowgirl roots as part of my path to the linear modern world of architecture

peace on mars: hybrid 2020

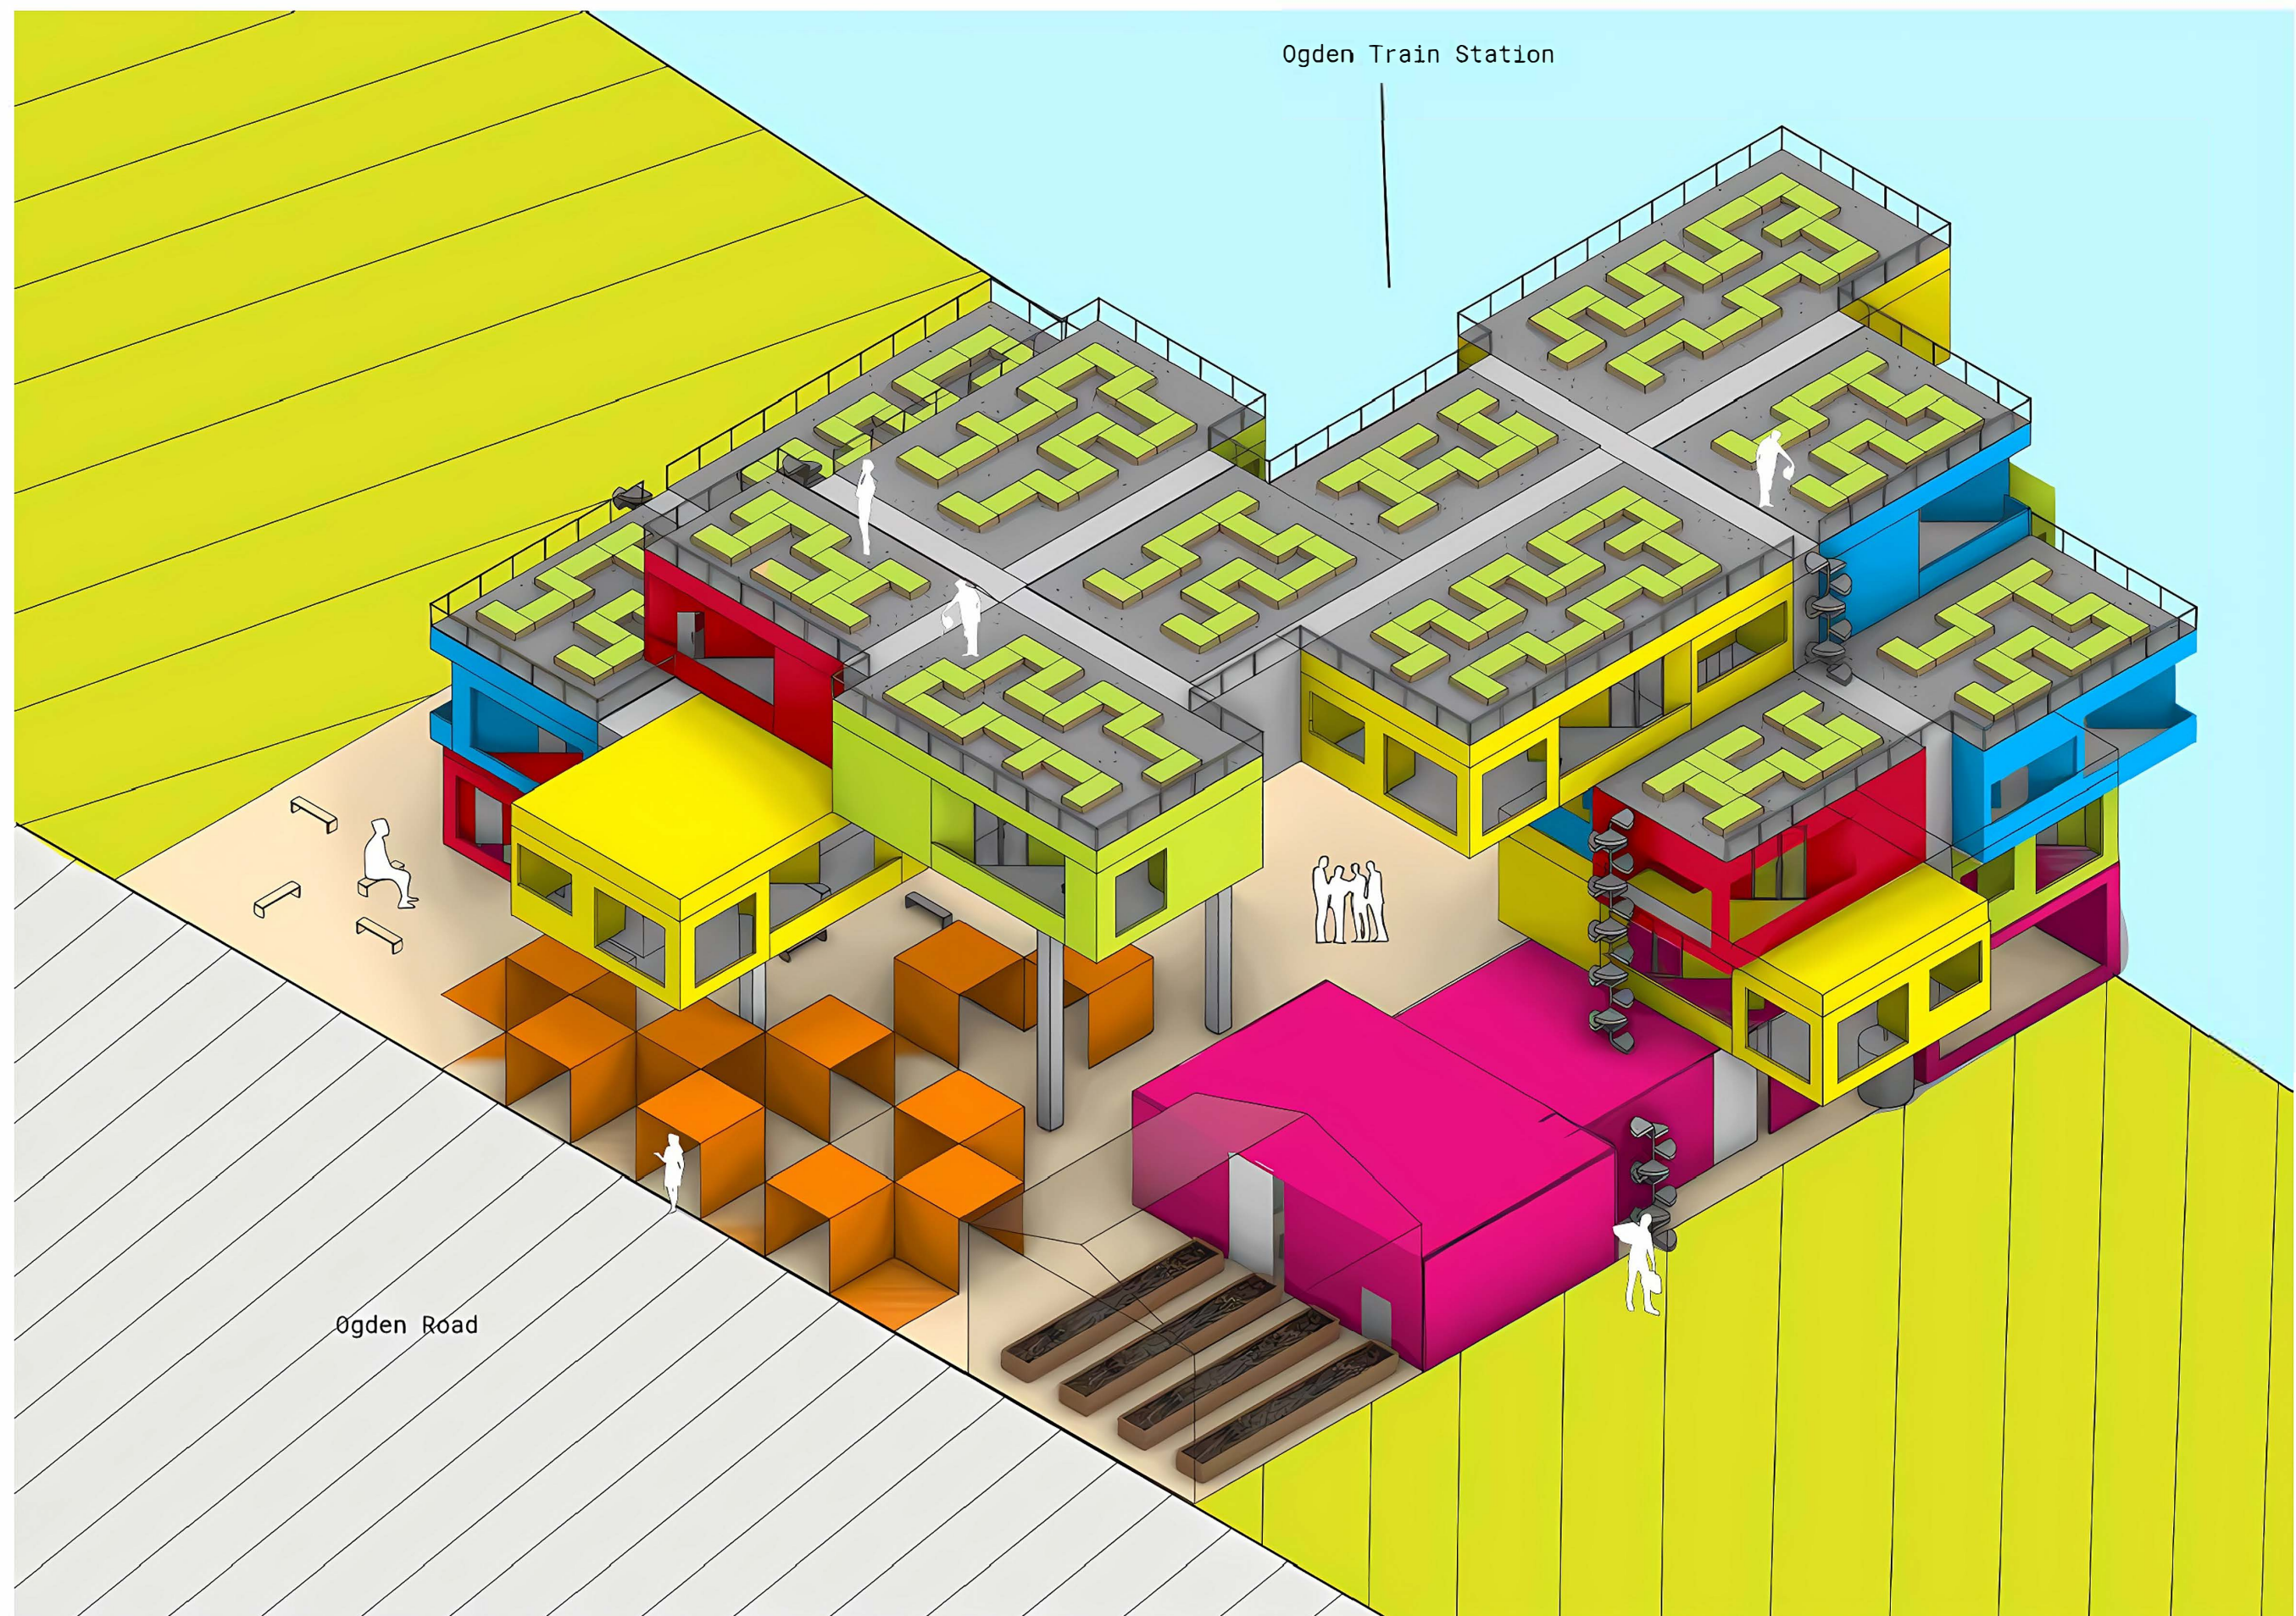

created during Graphics 1 of my Foundation Year, this is where I started to find my style in creating landscapes

rock formations: blender 2020

rocks created using various models of stuffed animals as particle elements for Graphics 2 Foundation
Year

rock formations: 2020

eye of the beholder: 2020

my proudest design moment in Foundation Year. this encapsulates my style, weird and slightly incoherent but makes you curious about the potential of plants

eye of the beholder: 2020
