CALGARY ARCHIVE: GILLMOR THEORY BLOCK WEEK EXHIBITION |

CALGARY CENTRAL LIBRARY | DECEMBER 1-30

As part of the March 2021 Gillmor Block Week course, SAPL students worked with seven women who recently immigrated to Calgary. They mapped foodways systems or places, memories, activities and destinations associated with the production, distribution and consumption of food. Their collaborative work became an exhibition that is now on display at the Calgary Central Library. If you're downtown, pop in to see the incredible work about cultural landscapes.
